

Management and Leadership Course

Any business or organisation is only as good as its employees and this is also true of the management and leadership of that organisation or business.

Managers are required to possess excellent leadership skills which will enable them to lead their teams effectively. Managers must use their skills to motivate their staff to perform well and to meet their targets. Without effective leadership a company will start to lose profits or staff as they will not be driven to excel and improve performance. This is something that should be avoided at all costs.

Achieve your potential & develop your team's performance. This course will enable Managers to equip themselves with skills required to inspire and lead staff effectively.

The course will include:

- Different leadership styles
- How to motivate your team and get the best out of them
- How best to engage staff and give them a sense of ownership to achieve goals.
- Discuss the good qualities of an effective manager.
- The impact of style on your team
- The difference between Management and Leadership
