

Team Building Workshop

Teamwork is all about valuing collaboration. In a team environment, people understand and believe that thinking, planning, taking decisions and actions are better when done cooperatively - "None of us is as good as all of us".

Teams are complex machines and it is not surprising that they can occasionally malfunction or need re-alignment and teambuilding exercises.

To work effectively everybody in the team must agree about what sort of team they are: what are the team goals, what is each team-member's role, who needs to work closely with whom and what the game plan for the team should be? It is also important to work in the context of the wider organisational objectives.

This one day workshop will aim to bring the workforce together, raising the work spirit and strengthening relationships within the workplace. It is designed for existing teams and their line managers.

Who should attend?

- Management staff and team supervisors.
- Individuals required to fill leadership roles.
- Team members who need to understand their own role within teams.
- Anybody who wants to understand how teams work.

Course objective

By the end of the course, participants will be able to:

- Recognise the importance of effective team work.
- Identify the stages of team development and where your team currently sits within this.
- Identify individual and team strengths and weaknesses.
- Reassess your team's goals and direction.
- Communicate better as a team.
- Develop some practical strategies for building an effective team.

To find out about our other courses, please check out our website: www.aksaa.co.uk or contact our offices.

The fee is £150 plus VAT per delegate or £1500 plus VAT plus expenses, for an in-house course for up to 20 delegates.