Women in Islam Course

This course aims to provide information to those who work with Muslim communities and women in particular. It will also assist those who wish to enhance their knowledge on this topic in this climate of misunderstanding, mistrust and fear.

This topic is worthy of discussion both within Muslim and non-Muslim communities. Within Muslim communities often cultural and traditional practices passed down through generations are sometimes misconstrued as Islamic teachings. In Non-Muslim communities, current political climate and a general discomfort with Islamic religious practices including the hijab or headscarf can lead to misunderstandings.

This Women and Islam course is designed to provide the basic tools and knowledge for those working with Muslim women and help to understand some of the practices that exist among Muslim communities.

The course will help explain the key issues that affect Muslim women and focus on topics that many public sector workers come across.

Who should attend?

- All those who wish to learn more about women in Islam.
- Those who work with Asian community and Muslim women in particular.
- Those who wish to find out more about Islam and the Muslim culture.

To find out about our other courses, please check out our website: www.aksaa.co.uk or contact our offices on 01924 466117.

Course objective

By the end of the course, participants will be able to:

- Learn about the status of women in Islam.
- Understand cultural norms & Islamic practices.
- Know the rights of Muslim women based on Islamic scriptures
- Understand Sharia Law & its impact on Muslim women
- Key issues explored such as forced marriages, honour killings and polygamy.

Aksaa can work with you to design and deliver training programmes which are tailor-made to your requirements.

The fee is £150 plus VAT per delegate or £1500 plus VAT plus expenses, for up to 20 delegates for an in-house course.